Genoa Conference Awaits Russ Reply To Allied Demands

Fate of Parley Largely Dependent on Tone of Soviet Response

BELGIUM FIGHT CENTER "Reds" Work Out New Formula For Restoration of Foreign Property

By Associated Press
Genoa—English and Italian delegates to the economic conference met today with members of the Russian delegation and began working out a new formula concerning the restoration of foreign property in Russia, said an announcement this afternoon by the French delegation. The announcement said it is hoped to devise a new clause in the memorandum which would satisfy Belgium, therefore France.

Genoa is eagerly awaiting the soviet reply to the economic conference's memorandum on the Russian question largely dependent on the tone of the Russian response.

DEPENDS ON REPLY
If the reply is essentially conciliatory it is argued, the French and Belgians will have difficulty in maintaining their opposition to the memorandum but if it should prove highly non-conciliatory Premier Lloyd George's position will become untenable and the conference will be in danger of immediate disruption.

Belgium is the center around which turns the fiercest controversy over the Russian question. It is Belgium's objection to clause seven in the allied memorandum to the Russians behind which France is standing in her opposition to the memorandum. Consequently all eyes in Genoa are on Belgium and on M. Jaspars, foreign minister and chairman of the Belgian delegation.

"The question raised by Belgium about clause seven has two aspects," M. Jaspars said. "On one side it is a question of principle concerning respect for and protection of private property abroad. The other side concerns the economic restoration of Russia by reviving the industry of that country."

"Belgium invested two and a half billions of francs gold in Russian industry and possessed 361 factories. We produced in Russia before the war 42 per cent of the country's output of the entire country, 48 per cent of the steel, 75 per cent of the chemical products, 50 per cent of the glass and 30 per cent of the window glass."

"No other country is so prepared as is Belgium to restore Russia if the latter returns to the former Belgium's proprietors their old possessions. Belgian industrialists already have a billion francs laid aside to restore their industries there."

BELGIUM HAS PLAN
"In clause seven, Belgium admitted a formula which allowed for nationalization of property in Russia on condition that its use should be granted to the old proprietors or, when this was impossible compensation be given them."

"Belgium does not wish the failure of the conference. All her efforts have been directed toward the success of the meeting while every one has paid homage to the Belgian sincerity and peaceful spirit."

M. Jaspars denied statements printed recently in several newspapers concerning a military and economic alliance between France and Belgium. He said the two countries concluded in 1920 a purely defensive convention, effected through the exchange of letters which provided the convention be effective only when mutually agreed upon.

Madison Girls Have Their Own Purity Drive

By Associated Press
Madison—The transparent blouse, the scant short skirt, the use of powder puffs in public and of cigarettes at any time, were tabooed by girls of Madison high school Tuesday when they unanimously adopted seven resolutions pertaining to their conduct.

Resolutions call for simple appropriate dressing, avoidance of use of the powder puff in public, condemnation of use of cigarettes by boys and girls, avoidance of undue familiarity with boys, the refraining from loud, boisterous talking and the attempt to lift the conversation among girls to a level fitting intelligent people.

The girls endorsed resolutions passed Monday by the boys' college for elimination of "bad" habits.

GRADE CROSSING LAW IS UPHELD

Court Decides Railroads Must Pay Portion of Cost for Public Safety

By Associated Press
Madison, Wis.—The Wisconsin supreme court Tuesday upheld the constitutionality of the railroad commission law which gives the state authority to assess a portion of the cost involved in eliminating railroad grade crossings against the carriers.

In his opinion Justice Rosenberry held that the Chicago and Northwestern railway company could be required to pay $29,000 levied against it by the railroad commission as the company's share of the cost of relocating the crossing at Mount Pleasant, Racine county.

The steam railroad of Wisconsin united in carrying this case to the supreme court as a test of the grade crossing law, before other actions were commenced. By deciding that the law was a valid exercise of the police power, the court has disposed of the other proposed cases.

Justice Rosenberry wrote in his opinion that "the state has ample power in the exercise of the police power to authorize the relocation of the highway in order to protect the public and to cause the cost thereof to be assessed against the railroad company."

BURCH DEFENSE SPRINGS SURPRISE

World War Veteran Gives Important Testimony For Defendant in Trial

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—Cross examination of Oscar E. Brann, a former armed veteran of the world war and one of the defense's "surprise" witnesses, was scheduled for Tuesday at the trial here of Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Brann took the stand Monday and testified it was he and not Burch who figured in an episode at Santa Monica canyon the night Kennedy was slain.

C. S. Sumner, a state witness, had previously declared he had seen Burch at that point at that time, had been blinded by the head light of the automobile Burch was alleged to have driven, had used an epithet and later asked Burch if he would like to trade lights.

It is at the mouth of the Santa Monica canyon, where the state contends, that Burch threw into the ocean the shotgun with which Kennedy was killed.

FARMER AND WIFE FIGHT FATAL DUEL

Battle to Death in Bitter Struggle With Butcher Knife and Axe

By Associated Press
Port Huron, Mich.—Joseph Lobert, a Huron county farmer, and his wife fought to death at their farm home Monday. A butcher knife and an axe figured in the tragedy, each inflicting wounds which caused the death of the other. The bodies of the farmer and his wife were found by their older children on their return from school. The only details of the tragedy were obtained from a four year old daughter who with two other children one aged six months and the other two years, were at home at the time. The six months old baby in the struggle between the parents suffered a serious wound on the upper right arm from the knife.

HARDING SENDS SHARP ANSWER

Tells Mondell Record of Department of Justice Calls for No Apology

By Associated Press
Washington—Attorney General Daugherty in a statement prepared at the request of President Harding and transmitted by the president today to Representative Mondell, Wyoming, republican house leader, declared "the record of the department of justice in connection with war contract cases calls for no apology and none is intended."

Apparently referring to recent charges in the house of inaction in prosecution of war fraud cases, the attorney general stated "the plan is laid and all cases will be energetically prosecuted." He added that "very substantial progress" had been made to date by the department despite lack of adequate facilities in men and money.

ROBERTSON FAILS TO PRESS CHARGE

By Associated Press
Washington—Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran, did not press his case before British Embassy officials Tuesday with the ardor with which he is reported to have pressed his suit for the hand of Miss Mary Culbertson, 21 year old daughter of Senator Culbertson of Texas.

The British veteran was reported to have arrived in Washington on an early train from Newark, N. J., prepared to lay before the embassy his charges that as an outgrowth of the romance involving the Texas Senator's daughter private detectives had kidnapped him and attempted to put him out of the country. Up to now, however, he had not put in his appearance at the embassy and attaches there said they had heard nothing of him.

Wedding Called Off When Bride-To-Be Disappears

The marriage of Miss Caroline Schroth and Antoine Lehrer did not take place at St. Joseph church at 5:15 Tuesday morning as it was planned for Miss Schroth left the home of her sister, Mrs. William F. Wolfram, 1114 Spencer st., on Monday and will not return. In the meantime, the prospective bridegroom sits in the dining room of his home, 1131 Packard st., surrounded by his motherless children and wonders where she is and why she left him.

Mr. Lehrer told the story to a Post-Crescent reporter at noon on Tuesday. The wedding was all planned and he was to take his bride to the priest's house Monday night. They had purchased the wedding ring Monday morning and she kissed him when he left her at her sister's at 11:30. Then came the telegram saying she would not marry him. Mr. Lehrer attempted to find out where Miss Schroth had gone, but her sister refuses to tell him. He says that he has reason to believe that she did not leave Appleton but is hiding from him at her sister's home.

Mrs. Wolfram said that Miss Schroth had never been quite decided about marrying Lehrer, but that he kept urging her to be his wife. She says she thinks her sister is afraid of Lehrer. She knows where her sister is, but will not tell either Mr. Lehrer or any one else where they can find her. She says that she is sure that the wedding is "all off."

The would be bridegroom is an elderly man whose wife died in November, 1919. There are still eight children at home in the care of a daughter who is not more than 16. He said that all his friends and his wife's relatives urged him to marry again so as to relieve his daughter of so much work. It was through the mother of his first wife that he began corresponding with Miss Schroth who was then at Coleman. She came to Appleton in April and has been here ever since.

"She is a fine girl and I cannot understand her actions," said Mr. Lehrer. "She gets along fine with my children and they like her. I never noticed that she had changed until Sunday night when we were at a shower at Wolfram's. She seemed to keep away from me, but when she kissed me when I left her yesterday, I thought everything was alright. I couldn't say a word against the girl. I wish I could find her and find out what is the matter. It seems more like a funeral than a wedding to me now."

In an adjoining room were the flowers which Mr. Lehrer had got for his bride. He says that she has the wedding ring and he wants to marry her and he cannot understand what has happened.

"Moon" Seller Not Responsible If Victim Dies

By Associated Press
Madison—When a man voluntarily drinks moonshine whiskey and then dies as a result, the person who gave him the whiskey cannot be accused of manslaughter, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, held Tuesday.

He expressed the opinion, however, that if the man was so drunk before being offered the drink that he could not well resist, then there might be ground for prosecution for fourth degree manslaughter.

"It is laid down as a general rule," Mr. Messerschmidt said, "that one who is ignorant of the poisonous character of the drug he administers to another is not guilty of a crime."

U. S. CONTROL OF MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY URGED

Milwaukee Pastor Asks Senate to Investigate Film Activities

By Associated Press
Washington—Urging passage of the senate resolution calling for an investigation of the alleged political activities of the motion picture industry, Rev. S. Patterson Todd, of Milwaukee, Wis., declared Tuesday before a senate judiciary subcommittee having the resolution in charge, that congress should regulate the motion picture industry, which he described the third largest in the country, as it had the railroads and the packers.

The present federal law prohibiting the transportation of prize light films in interstate commerce is not effective, the witness said, because in its enforcement the federal courts imposed fines "which became license" and did not impose prison sentence. He stated he favored a strict federal film censorship.

Dr. Todd produced letters from the department of justice which showed that U. S. District Attorney Sawyer in the eastern district of Wisconsin, was now considering the presentation of evidence to a federal grand jury asking the indictment of those engaged in the exhibition of prize light films on the charge of conspiracy.

Dr. Todd's suggestion that the use of the silver screen in the conduct of political campaigns should be as regulated brought from Senator Shortridge, California, chairman of the subcommittee, an inquiry as to how that could be lawfully done, and whether it would be enforced, it would not also involve an attempt to restrict the "political activity of newspapers."

Dr. Todd told the committee that he was a "lobbyist" licensed and registered as such in Wisconsin.

SOVIET COURT SENDS PRINCESS TO PRISON

By Associated Press
Moscow—The former Princess Gagarin has been sentenced to five years imprisonment by a soviet court here because, while an agent of the government police, she acted as an advisor to the Rev. Dr. Tikhon, patriarch of Russia, who is shortly to go on trial charged with obstructing the requisitioning of church treasures by the government.

The language of the Transportation act was intended by congress to cover just such a development for it provides that any one hundred men can appeal to the labor board to take cognizance of a dispute. Thirty nine thousand has appealed and have said the cause of their dispute was the method of selecting spokesmen. The court says the labor board has nothing to say about this. The labor board says it ought to have and gives a higher court will concur in that view. If it doesn't, there is every reason to believe Congress would grant the necessary authority and that President Harding would support the request. Attorney General Daugherty, however, has sent a special attorney here to argue the case and the hope is that a higher court may reverse the decision and point out that the Transportation act does give the Labor board power to take cognizance of any dispute if an appeal is made to it by workmen who have been denied a voice in the making of agreements concerning their wages and working conditions.

HUNDREDS ATTEND DAVISON FUNERAL

Davison, financier, philanthropist and head of the American Red Cross during the world war, who died of pneumonia in Bellevue hospital, St. John's of Long Island town, nestled among the flowering hills of this picturesque Long Island village, was crowded and many hundreds unable to gain admittance stood silently outside.

LABOR BOARD IS AMAZED AT COURT RULING

Injunction Entered by Judge Page Appealed to Higher Tribunal

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.

Chicago, Ill.—The United States Railroad Labor Board is amazed at the phrasing of Judge Page's decree just entered in the district court which restrains the board from performing some of the functions vital to its effective operation, if not its existence.

The language of the decision in the case brought by the Pennsylvania Railroad against the labor board was ambiguous and led government lawyers in Washington to conclude that the transportation act was broad enough to overcome the obstacles set up by Judge Page. But when the injunction was entered by Judge Page all doubt was removed and the labor board has appealed the case and obtained a hearing in the circuit court for June 8.

The decree itself enjoins the United States Labor Board "from assuming any authority or taking any action of any kind or character under section 301 of the Transportation act, unless and until there has been a joint submission of a dispute by the carriers and the employees which has been the subject matter of conference between them."

MEANS END OF BOARD
The whole case turns upon the word "joint submission." It had not been especially emphasized in Judge Page's decision but it is plain enough in the decree of the court. Officials of the United States Railroad Board say that if it is sustained it means the end of the labor board or such a substantial curtailment of its powers as to make it work aimless.

In the particular contingency developed by the Pennsylvania Railroad's case, labor board officials say an election was held by the Pennsylvania at which approximately thirty nine hundred ballots were cast to determine who the spokesmen of the shop craft should be. The American Federation of Labor conducted an election at which thirty nine thousand ballots were cast. The Pennsylvania insisted that the representatives of the thirty nine hundred were the bona fide spokesmen of the employees and an agreement was reached with that group. Now the Pennsylvania claims there is no dispute and hence the labor board has no jurisdiction and on top of this the Federal court decree insists that the labor board cannot interfere unless there is a "joint submission" of the issues by carrier and employees. The representatives of thirty nine hundred are satisfied and are not interested in any "joint submission" of the case to the labor board. But are denied recognition by the Pennsylvania, and are prevented by the court decree from getting the assistance of the United States Labor Board.

CONGRESS MAY ACT
The language of the Transportation act was intended by congress to cover just such a development for it provides that any one hundred men can appeal to the labor board to take cognizance of a dispute. Thirty nine thousand has appealed and have said the cause of their dispute was the method of selecting spokesmen. The court says the labor board has nothing to say about this. The labor board says it ought to have and gives a higher court will concur in that view. If it doesn't, there is every reason to believe Congress would grant the necessary authority and that President Harding would support the request. Attorney General Daugherty, however, has sent a special attorney here to argue the case and the hope is that a higher court may reverse the decision and point out that the Transportation act does give the Labor board power to take cognizance of any dispute if an appeal is made to it by workmen who have been denied a voice in the making of agreements concerning their wages and working conditions.

Charges Attempt Is Made To Pack G.O.P. Convention

Says Milwaukee Politicians Seek Control of County Meeting Wednesday

OPEN CAMPAIGN WEDNESDAY FOR STATE ELECTION

Forces Opposed to LaFollette Faction Hold Meetings in Every County

Madison, Wis.—The political forces opposed to the La Follette faction within the Republican party will set under way their plan for a Citizens' Republican state conference Wednesday, when the Committee of Forty-Four, promoting the new organization, will hold county meetings in all sections of Wisconsin.

At that time 988 delegates and the same number of alternatives will be selected, to attend the general political conference at Milwaukee June 1. La Follette ticket in the general election primaries, September 4, are to be named.

County meetings Wednesday are authorized to instruct the delegates chosen by them, to vote for specified candidates for nomination at the June conference. The Committee of Forty does not recommend, however, that the local gatherings definitely endorse individual candidates.

Upon the men and women selected Wednesday will devolve the task of selecting a complete ticket of state officers to oppose the La Follette slate. They will name candidates to oppose Senator Robert M. La Follette, Gov. J. J. Blaine, and Lieut. Gov. George F. Comings for re-election, and Henry J. Zimmerman for Attorney-General, and Solomon Levitan for State Treasurer.

INTENDED NO CONTEST
"I had not intended to enter any contest for delegates until I learned that Dithmar was in Milwaukee conferring with Prohibition Commissioner Stone and others interested in electing him for governor and of what his lieutenants were doing."

"I am satisfied that the great majority of the committee of 44 wants a real expression of the people in the county conventions. But they have permitted the organization in Milwaukee county to fall into the hands of a few who are bent on suppressing any expression of the people's choice."

Charge was made that Charles Kaempfer, a member of the Milwaukee city election commission, worked with Verges "to limit the convention practically to their own men and thus control the cause conference and with delegates elected in other counties where their confederates have been working to control the state conference also."

HAVE OWN CANDIDATE
"The attitude of these politicians, plainly shows," Mr. Morgan declares, "their intention either of putting over Dithmar, who two years ago sought the endorsement of La Follette and nonpartisan league or some other candidate they may have secretly selected in a back room and whose name they don't submit to the voters. If the people are not permitted to express their choice why hold a convention to ratify what a few Milwaukee politicians do in a back room."

"I believe that when the brazen attempt to defeat the original intent of the committee of 44 is known the people will thank me for exposing the plot. I am becoming suspicious of this bunch of ex-LaFollette men who were kicked out by La Follette and are against him for that reason and no other. It seems that the habit of hand picking is still strong with them."

CHARGES ARE DENIED
Milwaukee—Charges of conspiracy in connection with the choosing of delegates Wednesday night for Milwaukee county to the republican state conference called by the committee of 44 to meet here June 1, were denied by persons referred to by William J. Morgan, attorney general, who is a candidate for governor.

"I am not trying to pack the convention Wednesday night," said Charles Kaempfer. "I don't know what Mr. Morgan is talking about. What right has he to demand an instructed delegation from Milwaukee county? Why is he accusing others of trying to fix the convention when it looks as if that is what he is trying to do?"

"I don't understand why Mr. Morgan should make such statements," said Henry Verges. "There is no truth in them. I haven't a seat in the convention and if I attend will be a spectator. The charges are unfounded. I have heard, however, that he is trying to pack the convention."

"My political views have never been hidden, but as a federal appointee I cannot consent to an interview as to candidates for places on the state ticket," said James Stone, federal prohibition director, when asked as to his preference for governor in the contest between Mr. Morgan and Mr. Dithmar.

Housecleaning Do Your Spring Scientifically

Housecleaning need not be the haphazard job long been regarded in many households. If the work is carefully planned, if the kind of furnishings that are easy to keep clean are chosen and handled in the right way, and if provision is made for keeping all the dirt possible out of the house, there will be no need for the upheavals that result in discomfort in the entire household.

Moreover, systematic housecleaning saves labor in the end and is economical of the materials used in the furnishing and care of the house.

The Department of Agriculture has issued a booklet on the problems of housecleaning which is invaluable to housekeepers. This is a free Government publication. Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Community Welfare Finds Huge Number of Requests Awaiting Its Action

Replies to the chamber of commerce questionnaire were considered by the community welfare committee at its organization meeting for the year Monday at the chamber of commerce rooms, with Dr. G. A. Dr. R. H. Purdy, John Stevens and J. Austin Hughes. So many of the questionnaire answers relative to Appleton's needs came within the scope of the committee that no program could be shaped from them within the time of one meeting. It was therefore decided to have a copy of the replies prepared for each member so they could be studied for a week or more and action then taken.

5,000 COPIES OF REPORT ON SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the finance committee of the common council in the city hall Monday evening definite arrangements were made for the printing of 5,000 copies of the recent school survey report in order to make it possible for a copy to be placed in practically every home in the city. Other matters were discussed which will be brought up at the next meeting of the council.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Romkesko and Mrs. Joseph Conrad were among the Freedom people who visited Appleton friends Monday.

700 HEAR PROGRAM BY ARTILLERY BAND

The lively program presented by the 121st Artillery Band at its second concert in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Monday evening was enjoyed by an audience of more than 700 people. The Atlanta suite was the most noteworthy number of the program but every number was enthusiastically received.

Bad weather seems to be a jinx to the band concerts this year since the number who could attend last time was also lessened by the inclement weather. Many of the people who heard the concert Monday night came most of the way in a downpour.

WIDER PROGRAM IS URGED FOR WEEKDAY RELIGION SCHOOL

Speakers Discuss Problems of Religious Education at Enthusiastic Meeting

That the Week-Day School of Religious Education, has, by meeting a long-felt want in Appleton, justified its existence, and that steps should be taken for enlarging its program of instruction to include other grades, were chiefly stressed by more than a score of speakers at a supper attended by 150 or more Sunday school workers from eight Appleton churches at the First Methodist church Monday night. The meeting served as general clearing house of ideas bearing on problems of the Sunday school and religious education.

Judson G. Rosebush, president of the council of religious education, emphasized that the spirit of good will is the only solution for industrial problems and that the cultivation and practice of this virtue is well taken care of in the religious day school. Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, declared that character is largely formed in youth, that this phase has been much neglected in education, and that the strength of the church and the integrity of a nation is founded upon it.

Other speakers including pastors and laymen approved the religious day school as bridging the gap that the Sunday school instruction was unable to fill. Catholics, Lutherans and Jews were commended for their zeal in giving to the young a thorough religious education at the cost of supporting both the public and their private schools. This was cited as an incentive to spare no costs in support of the religious day school movement. A resolution of the Ministerial association was presented by Dr. H. E. Peabody recommending that the school be enlarged, that each of the cooperating churches be entitled to two representatives on the administrative council so as to increase the responsibility and develop the initiative of the churches and that a committee be appointed to review the training school for religious workers with a view of putting it on a broader and sounder basis.

TRADE EXECUTIVES TO HOLD MEETING

An invitation has been extended Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce, to attend a conference of trade association executives in connection with the eighth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in Milwaukee June 11 to 15. Announcement of the proposed special gathering is contained in a letter received from J. A. Hall, New York, educational director of the organization. The aim of the conference will be to secure greater cooperation between trade associations and other business bodies. Its theme will be "Better Understanding of Better Advertising of Better Business."

DRIVERS MUST BE CAREFUL IN COUNTRY

The Outagamie-co. highway maintenance crew began work tarring the main roads and cracks in the county concrete highways Tuesday. About seven men are in the crew under the supervision of J. W. Ahrens. In view of the heavy traffic on these roads, the work of the maintenance becomes extremely perilous, as it is some times almost impossible to keep close watch on all the automobiles going in both directions. Last year a member of the crew was killed while engaged in this work. Care and vigilance is requested of all drivers by A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

GREENVILLE MAN WINS PRIZE IN JOURNALISM

He will receive the regular prize of $20 from D. F. Brenner of Chicago, and the special prize of $50 offered by the late Mrs. William E. Cramer for the best paper at Marquette.

NEW COMPANY WILL MAKE SPUD PEELERS

Kools Manufacturing Company Wants to Lease Old Pumping Station

The Kools Manufacturing company, a new Appleton concern which has just filed articles of organization in the office of secretary of state, has applied for a lease on the old city pumping station in which to manufacture its products, the main output to be mechanical potato peelers. The water commission is considering the petition.

Four brothers, William, Frank, Bernard and Edward Kools, three of whom are mechanics, will direct the affairs of the company. Heretofore they have been constructing a mechanical potato peeler by assembling parts which they secured elsewhere. The company now will manufacture the parts.

Two machines constructed by the Kools brothers now are in use in the kitchens of the Sherman house and Lawrence college. The machine at the Sherman house is operated by a small electric motor. The knife running on a worm gear peels the potatoes spirally somewhat like an apple peeler. The machine is capable of peeling about four bushels in an hour, it was said.

STATE AGAIN WILL FURNISH ROAD MAPS

Condition of Every Important Highway in the State Will be Noted on Maps

A service map showing state trunk highways is to be furnished by the Wisconsin highway commission again this year. It will show in colors the jobs under construction throughout the state. Highways closed to traffic will be shown in red, and detours and those on which no impediments are offered will be shown in green.

The information is forwarded each week by the nine divisions of the commission and is immediately transferred to the blank maps which are mailed to subscribers. The service will extend from May 15 to Oct. 15. The fee is $10. Subscribers are required to furnish a frame on which to mount the maps and provide a suitable location, where the public may have access to them.

BUILD SIDEWALKS ON SECOND AND STORY-STS.

Owners of residence property on Second and Story-sts. did not wait for formal action on the part of the common council before beginning to lay their new cement sidewalks and have the work well under way. The walks are being laid on the north and east sides of the two streets in front of several new residences.

New Method Of Teaching Ends Playing Hookey

In spite of the inviting weather and "spring fever" truancy is no greater now than it was during the winter, according to J. G. Pfeil, city truant officer. Very few complaints of children missing school are made.

This decrease in truancy, Mr. Pfeil said, is due to efforts of teachers to make their school work more interesting. In former years, when teachers devoted all their time to academic discussions and plain study of reading, writing and arithmetic the youth with spring fever and wanderlust found it hard to go to school when fishing was good or baseball was played. In these days, however, teachers are making school and study even more interesting than these outside attractions and few youngsters are playing hookey.

SAW DEBRIS OF AUTO WRECK NEAR THERESA

While on their way home from Milwaukee Sunday afternoon, Peter Schreier and Carl Hilfert saw two automobiles near Theresa, Dodge-co., that had been in a collision. Both were in a badly wrecked condition and had been abandoned. According to reports from bystanders several persons were injured and one woman thrown through the windshield.

HEAR "OTHER SIDE" OF WATERWAY PLAN

Both sides of the discussion relative to the merits of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project are to be presented to members of the chamber of commerce through arrangements made by Secretary Hugh G. Corbett with the Institute of American Business, New York.

This eastern organization represents the coast business interests which are opposed to the movement to have ocean ships come through the St. Lawrence river to Great Lakes ports. Their organ of propaganda is a bulletin issued regularly entitled, "Fallacies of the St. Lawrence Waterway Scheme."

Mr. Corbett asked that the local chamber be supplied with copies of this bulletin, and in a letter received from H. G. Andrews this request is complied with.

PRESENT M. E. MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAM SUNDAY

A mother's day program is to be presented by the senior department of First Methodist Sunday school next Sunday morning. The department meets at 9:30 in the Y. M. C. A. Dr. J. A. Holmes will give a talk and special music will be provided. Each member of the department is to bring his or her mother to the meeting as a guest of honor.

HOSPITAL OPEN TO DISABLED VETERANS

Disabled service men whose claims for compensation either have been disallowed or are pending are eligible to enter the hospital at the National Soldiers' home, Milwaukee, according to information received by Miss Anne Helm, executive secretary of the Red Cross, Richard Rolfe, Appleton, now is in the hospital.

The only requirement for entry, it is said, is proof of service and the discharge will provide that. It is said here that there are several men in Outagamie county who probably would avail themselves of this service if they knew about it.

Sign Now If You Want To Use Cottage

Cook May be Provided for Womans Club Cottage This Summer

All older girls who wish to use Appleton Womans club cottage at Lake Winnebago during the summer have been asked to sign up for their time at the clubhouse before May 15. After that date, the clubhouse will be assigned to various groups of younger girls who wish to use the cottage during the summer. The preference is given to the older girls since they have paid for the cottage through the efforts of the sports council.

A report has reached many of the girls that rent would be charged for the use of the cottage. This report is not true and the cottage will be used by various groups of the girls rent free during the summer. There is a possibility, however, that a cook will be provided for the cottage this year rather than a matron. The cook will prepare the meals for the girls, who will pay only what meals actually cost. This plan has not been definitely decided upon.

Many of the girls who used the cottage for a vacation week last year were working in town and found it difficult to prepare the meals when they returned at night to the cottage. The suggestion of having the cook has come from these girls and others. The Sports Council is entirely convinced that it will be able to find an elderly cook who will be economical and be able to prepare good meals for the girls at comparatively small cost.

Menasha was not represented in that contest, for the reason that Menasha's contestant are coached by members of the faculty, and those members were laboring under such a crowded program the past semester that no time could be spared for the work.

The dance in Stephenville announced last Saturday was in Al Giesse's pavilion instead of Stephenville auditorium as was stated in the Post-Crescent.

Found! By a Chemist—in 27 Brands of Laundry Soap

Women have been astounded recently to learn that the ordinary laundry soap is only part soap!

A scientist who examined 27 popular brands, discovered in every bar a large quantity of "filler"—pasty substitutes such as water glass made out of sand.

He found that this "filler," instead of helping clean, actually makes more work of your washing. Worse than that, it sticks in the fabric and cuts and rots the clothes.

These discoveries led The Palmolive Co. to create a brand new laundry bar—GREEN ARROW—probably the first ALL SOAP bar on the market. Also the first soap combining olive oil and naphtha! The olive oil gives GREEN ARROW a pale green tint like Castile.

Wherever this soap has been introduced it has stirred up women's enthusiasm as no other laundry innovation in years.

Like the manufacturers of fabrics, women have found there is nothing so mild as olive oil and yet so foamy and cleansing—that nothing gives material such softness, sweetness and whiteness. It restores the freshness of the fiber and protects colors.

GREEN ARROW soap has enabled the home to get results in the family wash like those obtained by the experts who weave your materials.

A bar of GREEN ARROW contains 33 1/3% to 100% more soap than the ordinary! Not because it is larger, but it is all soap; hence saves several bars a month. You will see it is much more economical, even at a cent or two more.

OF GREEN ARROW Mrs. G. E. says "I was able to wash with half the usual amount."

As for the hands, GREEN ARROW never makes them red, dry or rough. adv.

FRIDAY, MAY 19, TO BE BIG DAY FOR STUDENTS OF H. S.

Annual Field Day Will be Observed in Jones Park—Committees at Work

Friday, May 19 has been selected as an all school day for Appleton high school when representatives from each class will compete for honors in track and field events, when a baseball game will be played between two strong teams within the school and when Jones park will look like a Fourth of July celebration with its refreshment counters, booths, slideshows and dance pavilion. Everything that tends toward enjoyment and entertainment will be followed by students of the high school on that day.

Long distance and hurdle races will be held Friday morning at Lawrence field and the rest of the field events will be held during the afternoon at Jones' park. There will be athletic events for the girls also.

Several organizations in the school will maintain booths and will secure a competent "barker" to cry out the wares. Those who do not care to wander about the grounds or rest under the shade trees will find diversion in dancing on a large pavilion which will be erected for the occasion. The Melody Boys consisting of LeRoy Lahman, Leslie Griesler, "Bud" Pardee and Oscar Hoh have volunteered their services so that music can be provided without expense. The boys all are high school students.

Committees composed of members of the faculty and the student body are arranging further details for the gala day which will be one of the largest events of the school year.

PART OF SCHLAFFER FARM TO BE SUMMER RESORT

All of the Lake Winnebago frontage of the O. P. Schlaffer farm on Lake-ridge, 500 feet wide except a tract 600 feet wide is to be made into a summer resort. The land known as Lake Shore Farm frontage already has been subdivided and is to be sold through H. G. Thomas Land & Timber Co.

One plot with 450 feet fronting on the lake and extending back to the railroad tracks passing through that locality is to be sold to one person for an elaborate country home. The remainder will be divided into lots 100 feet wide and extending 300 feet back from the water's edge.

SUFFER BIG LOSS FROM MISSISSIPPI FLOODS

High water in one of the tributaries of lower Mississippi river has caused a great deal of damage and delay to a gravel company organized at Minden, La. by William Fitzgerald, according to a letter which Mrs. Fitzgerald wrote to her brother, Chief George P. McGillan.

The gravel extends from the bank to the middle of the river and the company had just purchased an expensive equipment and this was carried away by the swift current. A sidetrack belonging to a railroad company for which the company had a contract for furnishing gravel was undermined.

never varies in its leavening strength—never fails to produce pure, appetizing, nourishing foods, and all this at an economical cost.

Millions of women, hotels, railroads, Domestic Science Teachers, have been relying on it for over 30 years. Made in the world's largest factories.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Scout Leaders Enjoy Outing At Alicia Park

The continued drizzle Monday afternoon which prevented the Boy Scout leaders of Appleton and Kaukauna from making their trip to High Cliff was not able to dampen the enthusiasm of the men when they chose to have their cooking tests in the cottage at Alicia park instead.

Although they were not served with nectar, honey and milk, they fell to viands with a relish that was quite insatiable. Everybody had to cook something or tell the reason why and every one wanted to sample the other's cooking. As a result there was quite a number of overfilled stomachs and several of the men overslept on Tuesday morning.

Hunters' stew, kabob, cowboy's delight, bacon, beefsteak, pork chops, wieners, hoe cakes, cooked and fried eggs, buns, biscuits, twists, coffee and cocoa consisted the bill of fare, and there were many courses—first fried eggs then cooked eggs; first bacon and then bacon and eggs.

H. B. Buck, scout executive, showed what he could do in the way of making snow balls from biscuit dough and twisting dough about sticks and baking it that way. The Rev. Paul Keich prepared a batch of cowboy's delight by frying sliced potatoes in a mixture of grease, water and flour and proved that the fry was meant for other people's delight.

George Rogers and daughter Jane left Monday for their home in Boston, Mass., after visiting relatives and friends here for several days.

LOTS OF ROMANCE IN SENIOR CLASS PLAY

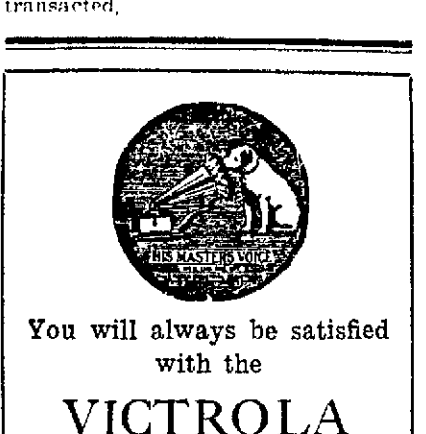

The word "comedy" does not entirely characterize the play "Mice and Men" to be presented Thursday evening, June 1, by Appleton high school graduating class. Although the play is a comedy in four acts it is also a romantic play and contains much beauty. An especially elaborate stage setting will be used for the play. The rehearsals are being held daily and characters are rapidly fitting into their parts.

Must Spend $5,000 To Repair Flood Damage

Swollen Rivers Have Receded, Leaving Deep Excavations to be Filled

New London—The Wolf and Embarras rivers have receded to normal and most of the damage done by the high water has been repaired. Practically the entire length of sidewalk along the south side of North Water-st. from the Werner drug store corner to Shawano st. was undermined and the cement broke. Some damage was also done to sidewalks and pavements by the force of the current on Shawano-st.

On both streets, the holes have been filled in with dirt and planks are temporarily laid until the sidewalks can be rebuilt.

It is estimated that the damage will amount to about $5,000 and that from 1,200 to 1,500 loads of gravel and dirt will be required to fill in the cavities left by the swift torrents of water.

In many cases the lawns and gardens of residences along Shawano and McKimley-sts. were ruined by the washouts. Ruts at least four feet deep have been cut through the lawn of the Henry Ziener residence on Shawano st. and the garden at the south of the house has been washed away. The front steps are hanging from the porch of a home near the north end of the street where the water tore away the sidewalk and left deep holes in the lawn. A part of the foundation at the rear of the old Revere house was undermined and crumbled to pieces.

The city has hauled gravel to fill in several side streets between Shawano and McKimley-sts. at the north end of the city.

Repair Railroad Tunnel
The Soo Line is repairing the work on the tunnel underneath the Spencer rd. on its Wisconsin Northern branch. Heavy rains had caused the dirt to soften and ease in. A steam shovel is being used to reexcavate a part of the tunnel.

EMPLOYEE OF VALLEY IRON WORKS FAIRLY AMAZED AT RELIEF TRUTONA GAVE HIM

"Almost Unbelievable That This Medicine Could Relieve My Indigestion So Quickly," Mr. Welland Declares.

Hundreds of employees of Appleton factories are now taking Trutona, the famous tonic, which has attracted such widespread attention in this city during the past few weeks. B. J. Welland, lifelong Appleton resident living at 1120 Elm-st., and an employee of the Valley Iron Works, is among the many local factory men who have derived such remarkable benefits thru use of Trutona that they feel duty bound to publicly endorse this sterling preparation. Mr. Welland says:

"For several years, gas formations in my stomach had caused me no end of suffering. I'd become so terribly swollen and bloated at times and usually felt tired and sluggish. Almost every day I'd suffer from headaches. My appetite was so poor. I'd often eat scarcely any of my noon lunch. Sometimes at night my stomach would cause me so much pain I'd have to get up and take soda for relief. I'm sure that Mr. Schintz told me about Trutona because it has positively done more for me than he said it would. It's just unbelievable that Trutona could relieve me of that swollen, bloated, gaseous condition of my stomach so quickly, but it has done it. And restored my appetite, too! You can bet I eat my noon lunches nowadays as well as all my other meals."

Mr. Welland's statement, rife with gratitude and sincerity which has characterized scores of statements given by LOCAL people during the past few weeks. Hundreds of Appleton residents are taking Trutona and getting remarkable relief from stomach, liver, kidney, bowel or blood troubles. This famous tonic will do the same for YOU! that it is doing for YOUR friends and neighbors. Trutona is sold and highly recommended in Appleton at SCHLITZ BROTHERS' Drug Store where many local people are calling daily.

Quit Laxatives, Purges; Try NR
NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, colic, oil, purges, and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

This paragraph in the report names the defects of this type:

"An analysis of the table shows that Appleton's score is low on special rooms, such as gymnasium, play room, shops, laboratories, etc. The average score is 54 per cent of the standard score. The score for service systems, including heating, ventilating, fire protection, toilet systems, etc., is also a low one being 66 per cent of standard."

Sites where the buildings are located are given a score of 91 per cent, considering their positions in the districts, but would rank lower if the city had a union system. Most of the buildings are not well arranged, the report says; in a number of instances the additions to the original buildings are not well arranged with reference to the original structure. "This is especially true of the Fourth ward building and the First ward building."

"Classroom scores also suffered in a number of buildings on account of poor arrangement, location and improper and insufficient illumination," reads the findings. "For example, the seventh and eighth grade rooms on the third floor of the Washington school are penalized on account of poor location of the classrooms of the high school also contributed to the low score, and those of the Fourth district are of such peculiar shape that their efficient use is correspondingly lowered."

NEED NEW LIGHTS

Dark finish, except in the Lincoln school, as affecting light of the rooms is referred to and the obsolete lighting fixtures are recommended for discard in favor of properly shaded lamps distributing light evenly to all desks without glare.

Removal of toilet facilities from basements is urged. No school has the required number of fixtures for girls, and Washington school, Third district, has only 50 per cent of the necessary equipment. Sanitation is fairly well provided for, also seclusion and arrangement, except in the Fourth district building, where seclusion is rated almost zero.

"Heating and ventilating systems are much below par," the survey continues, "ranging from 75 per cent in case of the high school to 38 per cent in the Third district building. Many of the systems are of out-of-date construction, lacking in forced ventilation and, with the exception of two schools, are not provided with humidifiers. In some cases the fresh air rooms and inlets are adjacent to the coal rooms and infiltration of coal dust and dirt is the rule rather than the exception. The fresh air rooms are also used as store-rooms in many instances; this practice should be unconditionally stopped."

CITY ENGINEER FINDS BAD PLACE IN HIGHWAY

There is one stretch of gravel road in the northern part of the county that motorists will do well to avoid, according to Oscar F. Weissgerber, city engineer. This is on highway 47 in the town of Cleora at the northeastern end of the road. Work on this road was done last fall, it is said, but is in no condition for automobile traffic. Persons desiring to motor to Shawano are advised to turn off the highway in Cleora and take the Seymour road, drive three miles east, then three and one-half miles north and two miles west until they again strike highway 47. Though this means a detour of eight and one-half miles it will be to tourists' advantage to make it.

scribed as makeshifts, library facilities are found absent and medical and health inspections are hampered by lack of nurses' rooms. Basements are in good condition except in the Third district.

NO FIREPROOF BUILDINGS

Fire protection is criticized if the report in these words:

"As regards fire protection it is to be stated that Appleton has no fireproof school building. Modern practice also requires in non-fireproof buildings, that stairways be enclosed in fireproof walls and that corridors be of fireproof construction. These conditions are absent in all schools. Fire extinguishers are in most cases ample but fire alarm bells are improperly installed in a number of cases in that these bells cannot be operated except from the floor where they are installed. These gongs should be operated from any floor and the basement."

Blackboards are placed at improper heights; requiring benches in some rooms so pupils can reach them.

Indicating that the grade school buildings are large enough to accommodate the enrollment for some time to come the report has to say:

"The elementary schools of the various districts are not overcrowded now. With a proper redistribution of pupils and an increase in size of the classes, the present elementary school buildings can accommodate the enrollment for the next ten year period. This statement is based upon the seating capacity only and does not take into consideration the inadequacy of many rooms from the standpoint of light, ventilation, etc."

BLONDEY BUYS BULL AT WAUPACA-CO. SALE

Outagamie co. has one of the 46 purebred Guernseys offered at the Waupaca-co. consignment sale last week through a purchase made by Guy Blondy, a breeder living near New London. Mr. Blondy paid $105 for a yearling bull from a dam with a record of 570 pounds of fat in a year's test.

Half a dozen farmers from this county attended the sale. About half of the animals were sold to buyers from Waukesha, and from Idaho and Iowa. The average price was $180 and the top figure was $305 paid for each of two cows.

REPUBLICANS OF COUNTY MEET HERE TO NAME DELEGATES

County Convention Will Meet in the Courthouse at 2 O'Clock Tomorrow Afternoon

Final preparations have been made for the convention of Republicans in the courthouse at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. More than 100 men and women, representing every section of Outagamie county are expected to attend.

The principal purpose of this meeting is to elect 22 delegates to the state Republican conference in Milwaukee June 1, called by the Committee of Forty-four which consists of four representatives from each of the eleven congressional districts in the state. Outagamie county is entitled to one delegate for each 500 in population. Twenty-two alternates also will be called.

The county organization was formed at a meeting last winter when Charles Hagen was elected chairman and preliminary plans were made for the May meeting. At that time the dangers resulting from the growth of the Nonpartisan league in the state was emphasized.

Outagamie county interest has been enlivened by the fact that this county has a candidate for a state office. Mark S. Catlin is the first Outagamie county Republican to seek nomination on the state ticket in many years and it is almost assured he will go into the convention with the backing of a great majority of the delegates from all parts of the state.

It is quite likely that plans for the coming primary campaign will be discussed at the convention. A number of women have been invited to attend the conference.

SCHINDLER IN CHARGE OF WAUPACA DRAINAGE PLAN

L. M. Schindler of this city, drainage engineer for the northern section of Wisconsin, is working on a project in Waupaca-co. north of Manawa. A number of farmers in that locality want a drainage trench constructed in order to improve the productivity of their lands and are anxious to have Mr. Schindler establish a drainage district for them.

This is one of the first rural drainage projects to be taken up this year in Mr. Schindler's territory. Two others are under contemplation.

YELLOW TRAIL NOT TO BE MOVED FROM APPLETON

Less Than Half Dozen Gather Monday Night to Hear Address by Cooley

Due to unfavorable weather and to counter attractions less than half a dozen persons assembled in the city hall Monday evening to hear H. O. Cooley of Minneapolis, manager of Yellowstone Trail association, Inc., who postponed delivering his address until a later date. He informed those present that he expected to be in Appleton early in June to remain two or three days and that he would then present the advantages of the Yellowstone trail to a city to all who might wish to hear him.

He said within a short time his association expects to have its own posts in Wisconsin for its markers instead of tacking them on telephone and telegraph poles. They will be constructed of iron and will be five and one-half feet above ground. In order to test them 42 miles of these posts were erected on the western border of the state last fall and withstood the winter much better than was expected, he said.

Mr. Cooley said emphatically there is no intention on the part of his association to remove the trail from Appleton as was reported some time ago.

He said also that reports had reached him that his association was planning to remove the trail so as to avoid Wisconsin which he also branded as absurd for the reason Wisconsin is considered the "playground" of the middle west and its scenic beauty is unsurpassed.

Relative to advertising Wisconsin the manager said his association had done more in this respect than the state highway commission had ever done or could ever expect to do. He exhibited a sectional map two by three feet in size showing the course of the trail through Wisconsin which was distributed by the thousands last year in neighboring states through which the trail passed.

Whatever indifference exists in Wisconsin with reference to the Yellowstone trail is due to false impressions and to misrepresentations, Mr. Cooley said.

Clarence S. Schroeder is substituting as rural mail carrier on route 3 for George Schroeder who is taking a few days' vacation.

Ordinary tire rubber
The white areas are "lumps" of unevenly mixed substances. Every "lump" is a weak spot that reduces mileage.

Crolide-Compound Rubber
—has no large "lumps." Notice how finely divided the particles are. This even texture is what makes Thermoid Tires wear so long.

Unseen "lumps" in rubber
—the hidden weakness of ordinary tires
A new rubber compound that eliminates them

MILLIONS of minute "lumps," unblended masses of "dead" material, seen only under a magnifying glass—this, it has been found, is what causes the weakness in ordinary tires.

"If even-texture rubber—rubber without 'lumpy' formations—could be produced," said W. D. Pardoe, well-known rubber expert, not long ago, "it is safe to say that tires could be made to give 15% more wear."

These "lumpy" formations are due to the failure of the strengthening materials to mix evenly with the rubber. Instead of producing an even, close-texture compound, "lumps" of unmixed substances are formed. The result is thousands of minute weak spots in every cubic inch of the tire.

The photo-micrographs above show these "lumps" as they appear under the microscope. Stone-bruises, premature blow-outs, and other tire troubles are largely due to this "lumpy" structure of the rubber.

A real step forward in tire making
Four tire experts in the Thermoid Rubber Company spent months in laboratory work and road tests. They finally perfected Crolide—a rubber compound that reduces "lumpy" formations to a minimum—that eliminates premature tire troubles.

This even-texture rubber does not weaken with the stretching and straining that goes on inside a tire in use. Made with Crolide Compound, Thermoid Tires are protected against rapid wear—against unnecessary sand-boils, blisters and blow-outs.

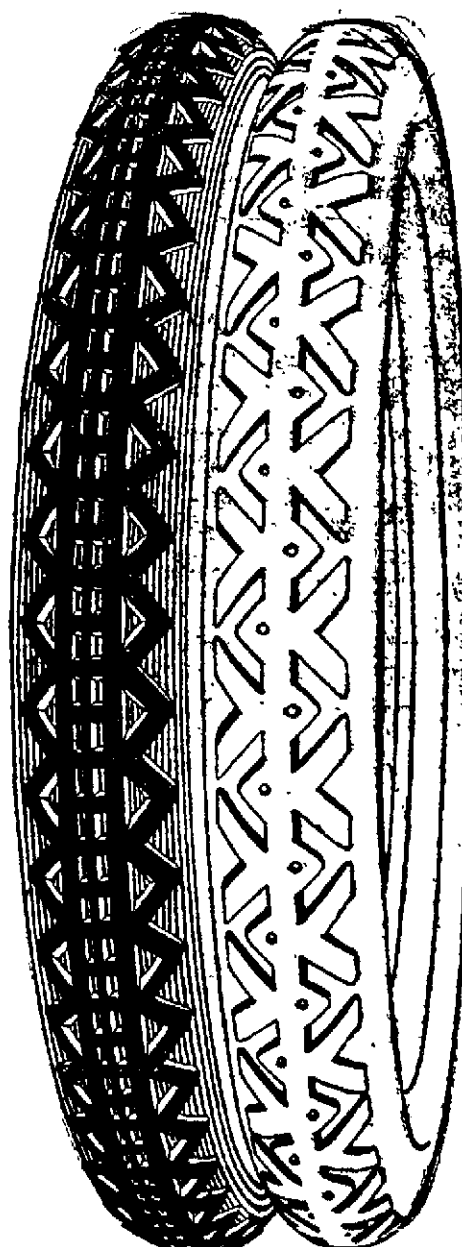

Yet despite its greater strength and density, this new rubber is actually more resilient. A one-inch strip stretches to 7 1/2 inches, almost eight times its original length.

Crolide Compound is today used exclusively in the manufacture of Thermoid Tires. Either the Cord or Fabric type gives maximum mileage under all road and weather conditions.

It can be fairly stated that a Thermoid Tire is equal to its oversize in any ordinary make.

We have compared the Thermoid Tire carefully point by point, with other tires on the market today and we confidently believe that no other tire compares with it for service and durability.

You are invited to call and see these new tires for yourself—also the famous Crolide Compound Tubes.

by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beauty, youth, wealth, social position—these had failed to bring happiness to LUCINDA DRUCE. New York society matron, in the fifth year of her married life. She and her husband, BELAMY, continued to drift apart and more openly he indulged his appetite for promiscuous flirtation and heavy drinking. Then, RICHARD DIXBURY, Lucinda's old sweetheart, returned just as Belamy was plunging into his latest affair, this time with MRS. AMELIE SEVERN. An open break between Lucinda and Belamy had been averted by the apparent sincerity of his penitence. In his heart he felt shame and self-reproach.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Why must he be such a fool as ever to let himself be flattered into forgetting sheer perfection was to be found nowhere if not within the walls of his own home?

Refusing to kiss his wife he put that thought behind him. He couldn't afford to dwell upon it. Already he was too far committed in this new affair to withdraw without losing face. But he would find some way soon to make an end of it. He thought of the last time he had seen her. They all had sat and sometimes this would be the last—and after this never again!

He really meant it this time, he vowed he did.

"Rest well, dear? Don't need to ask that, though. Only have to look at you. Never looked sweeter in your life than last night. Lucinda, I was quite jealous of old Daubney, monopolizing you."

"You needn't have been, Bel, and I don't think you were in a good condition to judge." Bel winked, because he had had himself open to this and it could be taken two ways, neither comforting. It was actually a relief to hear Lucinda add: "You seemed to be fairly preoccupied yourself, at the table."

"Oh, bored to tears, assure you. Amelie's a pretty little thing, quite able enough but nobody to talk to no conversation whatever."

Lucinda limited comment to a mild quizzical look.

"Doing anything special today?" Lucinda shook her head slowly, watching him with a half-smile, lambent with lazy intelligence. He felt vaguely uneasy, as who should of a sudden find himself hard by the brink of some abysmal indiscretion.

"Thought we might meet somewhere for luncheon, if you're lunching out."

"I'd love to," Lucinda put out an arm deliciously rounded beneath skin of a texture fairer and finer than any other Belamy had ever seen, and took a gorgeous bound engagement book from her secretaries. "Let me see."

"Oh yes, I'm having Fanny Lontaine to lunch at the Ritz, with Nelly Gues and Jean Sedley. What a pity. Though nothing can prevent your coming too, if you like."

A dark suspicion knitted Belamy's eyebrows. "Some actress? Sounds like it."

"Fanny Lontaine?" Lucinda laughed. "Nothing of the sort. Fanny was at school with me—Frances Worth."

"Old man Worth?" Belamy put in with symptoms of approval. "Terror of the Wheat Pit" they called him—didn't let long ago in the order of inquiry, leaving eight millions or so. Your little schoolmate ought to be fairly well-fixed."

"I don't know, I'm sure. I believe it's something to do with the will that brought them over. Fanny's father, called Harry Lontaine, so Fanny had to run away to marry him and was duly excommunicated by the family. She's lived in England ever since, her husband's an Englishman. Come to my luncheon and see her for your self. Not that I think you'd care for Fanny, though she is pretty to death."

"Why not, if you like her so much?"

"She's not at all the type you seem to find most attractive. What is it? You often wondered the women you lose your heart about are almost always a bit—well—"

Belamy flushed sullenly. It was one of his crosses that he seemed never to have the right answer ready for Lucinda when she took that line. After all, there is only one salvation for a man married to a woman cleverer than himself to do no wrong.

"Oh, if you're going to make up ancient history—"

But Lucinda pursued persistently, as if she hadn't heard: "I presume you've got to run after that sort. Bel, because they don't know you as well as I do—can't."

Even a slow man may have wit enough not to try to answer the unanswerable. Belamy got stiffly to his feet.

"I'll drop in at the Ritz if I can make it."

"Do, dear. . . . And Bel!" Lucinda rose impulsively and ran to him. "I'm sorry, Bel, I was so silly just now. Only you know, there are some things one can't help feeling keenly. Dear!"

She clung to him, lifting to his lips a face tempting beyond all telling. Insensibly his temper yielded, and catching her to him, he kissed her with a warmth that had long been missing in his caresses.

"Linda, you're a witch!"

"I wish I were. . . . enough of a witch, at least, to make you realize nobody cares for you as I do, nor ever will. Bel, don't go yet. There's something I want to ask you."

"Yes?" He held her close, smiling down magnanimously. As long as she loved him so, couldn't do without him, all was well, he could do pretty much as he liked—within reasonable

Diver Slays Devilfish In Undersea Fight

Tacoma, Wash.—So far as experience with octopuses goes, Jules Verne's fictional diver "had nothing" on Walter McCray, known from San Diego to Nome for his deep-sea activities; but the fictional octopus distinctly "had it" on the live one, for the former ate the diver, while McCray won his fight.

The devil-fish attacked him as he was working, in 50 feet of water, under a Tacoma dock. Grippled by the tentacles, he couldn't draw his knife, so signaled for a crowbar with which he pierced the foe's body. Then he called for a net to the surface, and the octopus gamely hanging on despite its injuries, McCray's help wanted to shoot the creature, but couldn't for fear of hitting the man instead, so furious was the struggle.

Finally the man and the crowbar won and the octopus slumped below. McCray followed at once, intending to kill his adversary but it had vanished.

Smoke Ring's Story

"Yes," said the little smoke ring who was telling a story up in Smoke Land, "I was ever so worried when I saw that my master was frowning, and decided that it was the letter he was holding that displeased him."

"I hung onto the corner of the mantle piece as long as I could, and then I decided to look at the letter for myself, so I floated over to his shoulder where I could easily see the written words."

"And this was what I read: 'Dear brother, it has been a long time since I have written to you so no doubt you'll be surprised to get a letter I wouldn't be bothering you now, but I'm in trouble. I've been sick since I came home from the war, and out of work. Mary has been sick, too. I'm getting better and can work soon, but our savings are gone and if you could lend me a hundred dollars, I'll pay it back the first minute I am able. Your brother, John.'

"Oh, botheration!" grumbled the rich man. "I can't help the fellow. I need every cent I can get my hands on to buy more of that stock that pays so well. I can't help it if he's sick."

"By this time more of my brothers were coming out of the pipe and when I told them the trouble they were as indignant as I was. So we got our heads together and decided to do something. We all got 'round his head and murmured into his ears, 'Poor John! Dear John! Don't you remember when you were boys together?'

"And the rich man began to think of his youth and his little brother. Suddenly he got up, strode over to his desk and wrote a check for a thousand dollars and put it into an envelope.

"I feel that I've done some good on earth," said the smoke-ring proudly

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is PSYCHOLOGICAL. It's pronounced—si-kol-oh-jikal, with accent on third syllable.

It means—relating to psychology, the science of the mind, being perhaps most frequently seen as part of the combination "psychological moment," that is, the occasion when any action or event is most certain to have full effect on men's minds.

It comes from—Greek "psyche," soul, mind, together with the suffix "logy," also from the Greek, meaning a word, discourse, doctrine theory or science.

It's used like this—"Dr. Sun Yat Sen, southern Chinese leader, expects to enter the struggle between Generals Chang Tso-lin and Wu, Pei-Fu at the psychological moment."

OUR FIRST YEAR

Chapter 29 — Mrs. Herrod Intrudes
By a Bride

Every time I decide that I must show my bills to Jack, something pops up to make me postpone the ordeal.

When it seemed that I could delay the exhibit no longer, I prepared the daintiest dinner, all Jack's favorite dishes. It had rained all day, we had been out every night for a week. I felt sure that my darling husband would love to settle down and read a magazine aloud while I embroidered.

And at some psychological moment, I would produce the bills.

But Jack upset my plan that night.

"Let's run over to Mrs. Herrod's," he suggested at dinner.

"It's raining—torrents," I objected.

"But she called me up today. She's leaving this week for the mountains. And she has discovered another two-mover she knows I'll want to file."

"That seems to settle it!" I laughed pleasantly. Why should Mrs. Herrod call up Jack at his office instead of me at home? To be sure, she always had called Jack so, and perhaps she ought not to be expected to change her habit because he had married.

Certainly I had no right to object, for our contract had been shaped to cover exactly this kind of a case. Jack and I were not to dictate about individual friendships.

So I couldn't say a word in criticism of Mrs. Herrod. But I could not pardon her for calling a man at his office to give an invitation for a social affair.

"Mrs. Herrod has been extremely nice to me lately," I remarked casually. "She's taken such an interest in my housekeeping. She's appointed herself a kind of professor in the higher education of a bride. I do like her immensely. Jack. She's charming, now, isn't she?"

Jack did not reply. He merely gazed upon me as if he couldn't get my meaning, and so I added: "It rains so. I think you'd better go alone, dear."

"Oh, Peggins!" There was sincere reproach combined with appeal in my husband's voice. "I'll call her up. I'll tell her you can't come."

"You'll do nothing of the kind, sweetheart! You simply have to go—she's leaving town this week." I was abdicating. "See—it's raining pitch-forks."

"But you've never been afraid of the rain, Peggins! You love to be out in it. Come along!"

But I would not go. And Jack protested he would not. Nevertheless, he went.

I fancied I could settle down calmly to enjoy a novel after Jack had gone, but I couldn't read. I could think only of my man and Mrs. Herrod as I had watched them at many a game with their understanding silences, their intimate silences.

Salt Pork

SALT pork has solved the problem for more than one noontime dinner table.

CRISP SALT PORK

Cut the pork as in the preceding rule. Cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain and dip in flour. Put in a hot frying pan over a slow fire. Cook slowly to a golden brown first on one side and then on the other. As the fat fries out in the spider pour it off. This makes the pork very crisp and sweet.

SALT PORK WITH CREAM GRAVY

Eight slices salt pork, flour, pepper, 2 cups rich milk, 1 dessertspoon minced parsley.

Cut the slices of pork about one-fourth of an inch thick. If very salty pour boiling water over them. Let stand five minutes and drain. Dip in flour and sprinkle with pepper. Frying pan should be very hot. Brown quickly on one side, turn and brown on the other. Then cook more slowly until the outside is crisp. Drain on brown paper and arrange on a hot platter.

Pour all but two tablespoons of fat from frying pan. Add one one-half tablespoons flour, one eighth teaspoon pepper and stir until flour and fat are perfectly blended and the flour is a pale straw color. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly till the sauce is thick and smooth. Pour into a gravy boat, sprinkle with minced parsley and serve at once.

SALT PORK WITH BEANS

Two cups dried beans, 1-1 teaspoon soda, 1 medium sized onion, 1 cup sliced carrots, 3-4 pound salt pork, 1-2 teaspoon mustard, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups canned tomatoes.

Wash beans carefully and let stand overnight in cold water. Drain and put in kettle with soda and hot water to cover. Bring to boiling point and boil 10 minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Do not pour the water in which the beans were cooked in the sink.

Put the onion, peeled but unliced, in the bottom of the baking dish. Add half the beans and half the carrots. Pour boiling water over salt pork. Scrape the rind and score in inch squares. Put the pork on beans and carrots. Cover with remaining vegetables.

Add mustard, molasses and pepper to tomatoes. Pour over beans and add enough boiling water to cover the whole. Cover and bake three or four hours in a slow oven or fireless cooker. During the last hour of baking bring the pork to the top of the dish to brown. If the oven is hot when

MORVICH FAVORITE TO WIN 1922 KENTUCKY DERBY

Fast Runners To Start In Famous Turf Classic At Louisville Saturday

Greatest Three-Year-Olds in Country Will Face Barrier in Big Event; Lucky Hour Has Following.

The annual running of the Kentucky Derby at Lexington this year, on May 13, bids fair to attract a record-breaking crowd.

Public interest has been stimulated by the possibility that an animal to topple the wonder horse of the century, Man o' War, from his pedestal, has been discovered in Morvich, the marvelous three-year-old son of Runnymede and Hyacinth.

So much has been written about Morvich that he is the strongest favorite for the Kentucky classic, and probably will attain the eminence which has come to few of being an odds-on favorite in a big Derby-starting field.

Of course, there are wise men of the turf who doubt Morvich. Such has been his fate since he started his first race with the bookies doubting him so much that they placed the odds against him at fifty to one. But Morvich has yet to see a horse in front of him at the finish.

LUCKY HOUR FAVORED

Many of the doubters look with favor on the Lexington stable's Lucky Hour. The showing made by this son of Pender Horse, who caught in the Tip Top Purse at Havre de Grace, has caused him many followers. Though blocked many times in the early running, he came with a tremendous burst of speed at the turn for home to win handily.

The only question is whether Lucky Hour can carry his speed over a distance.

The Tip Top Purse was only five and one-half furlongs while the Derby distance is a mile and one-quarter.

GOOD TIMES STRONG

Another entry in the Derby that is attracting considerable attention among the racing fraternity is Good Times, son of Then Cook and Bounty, who is a J. S. Cosen entry.

Good times has stepped many a sharp half this spring and his work-outs at a mile have been impressive. Whiskaway, son of Whisk Brown and Inaugural, is probably the most formidable entry of the Harry Payne Whitney stable, though Olympus made a bit with the railbirds by his race at Havre de Grace, when at a mile and two yards, he stood Bungee Buck, one of the most dangerous handican horses, on his head and then took on Boniface in a stretch drive and beat him.

The sire of Olympus in Royal Eagle, an English horse, while his dam, Paradise 2d, is American.

Many followers of the track have expressed their opinion that Olympus is showing at Havre de Grace the most impressive performance any Derby candidate has shown this spring. Morvich's trial gallops at Jamaica show nothing approaching it.

WANTS NAMES OF MORE GOLF FANS

Suggestion of Municipal Golf Links is Meeting With Popular Favor Here

Suggestion of Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce, that golf fans get together and talk municipal golf links for Appleton has struck a popular note. Several persons already have asked Mr. Corbett to call the proposed meeting and others are considering it.

A few days more will be allowed to elapse before anything further is done. Mr. Corbett hopes that in the meantime others who would like to learn the game of golf or who know it and would welcome a place to play will communicate with him and let their names be added to the list.

Valuable suggestions on formation of municipal golf links have been obtained by Mr. Corbett from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in readiness for any move that may be made here.

PIRATES RALLY AND BEAT ROBINS

Enter Ninth Inning Three Runs Behind and Defeat Dodgers, 8 to 7

Pittsburg — Stacing a rally in the ninth inning that netted them four runs the Pirates overcame a three-run lead and defeated the Dodgers, 8 to 7, here Monday. Score: Brooklyn . . . 2 0 1 0 0 0 1 3 6-7 16 6 Pittsburg . . . 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 2 4-5 12 0 Batteries: Grimes, Mamaux and Miller; Morrison and Gorch, Mattox.

HARRY BILZI WANTS TO BATTLE ZWICK

Harry Bilzi of Appleton, lightweight boxer, denies Jack Zwick ever gained a knockout victory over him in the squared arena. The men met last fall in Appleton and Bilzi won from Zwick in the second round on a foul. Bilzi agrees to meet Zwick if the Kaukauna boxer will make 150 pounds on the day of the fight.

TRY BUNT GAME TO BEAT FABER

Gossip spreads quickly in baseball circles and was to the player who is talked about.

Last year Urban Faber, star pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, injured his knee. During the winter he underwent an operation. The doctors said his knee would get as strong as ever. Managers and ball players who peruse the sporting pages, and most of the road of Faber's injury and operation. They wondered if the work knee might in any way effect his fielding.

There is no quicker way in baseball to upset a pitcher than through his fielding. Causing a pitcher to mess up a couple of bunts will go a much longer way toward cutting him off his stride than three or four base hits.

In the spring, prior to the opening of the season, the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox played a series of 12 games, springing even. In several of the games pitched the Giants made Faber the target of a bunting attack. In one game it met with success, seven runs being made in one inning.

That came caused the rumor to spread that Faber was having trouble fielding bunted balls because of his bad knee.

American League clubs began a bunting attack on Faber right off the bat, the Detroit club in particular. In one game nine Tigers tried the bunt, one came in, Faber, but only one player, Bobby Veach, got away with it.

And they do say that it was the first time in his life that Veach ever bunted a ball, except when sacrificing.

While Faber's knee probably hasn't recovered its strength he is such a hard man to bunt to that it seems a rather foolish system to use with him working.

APPLETON FAILS TO GET LIPPOLO

President Kluwin Awards Player to Menasha Club; New Stars Coming

President J. P. Kluwin of the Fox River Valley Baseball League has awarded Lippold to the Menasha club. Both Appleton and Menasha claimed the services of Lippold. Manager August Brandt of the Appleton club accepts the decision of President Kluwin and will take no further action in the case. He believes, however, the local club should have been awarded the services of the player.

Manager Brandt is in communication with three players whom he expects to have under contract within a few days. All of the men are stars and if secured by the local club will add both offensive and defensive strength to the team.

Plans are being made for the opening of the Fox River Valley league season in Appleton next Sunday when the Appleton team meets the Menasha club in the first game of the pennant race.

An automobile parade, headed by a band, will be staged, a band concert will be given at the ball park and Mayor Henry Reuter will pitch the first ball over for in the general direction of the plate. Complete plans will be announced in a few days.

BELOIT COLLEGE BEATS CORNELL TRACK TEAM

Beloit—Beloit college track men took Cornell college of Mount Vernon, Ia., for a 74 to 57 defeat at the Iowa field Saturday. It was the first dual meet for the two schools, and shows that advance done regarding Beloit's strength has not been too optimistic. Cornell won the Midwest college conference last year, but failed to cope with the strong Beloit squad this year.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

Here's Your Decision

In making ground rules because of an overflow crowd, it is up to either the captains or managers to agree on conditions that will govern possible plays that may arise because of spectators being on the field of play. If the heads of the two teams are unable to agree, then it becomes the duty of the umpire to make the ground rules, which must be accepted by the two teams.

Came Home to Die

"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of May's Wonderful Remedy and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to May's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the rancid matter from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
